Keep it clean when camping

The special Rameder cleaner for caravans and campers

Glass-fibre-reinforced plastic is one of the most popular materials for campers and caravans – and also for boats. But cleaning and caring for GFRP and related plastics could be tricky, if it weren't for the convenient Rameder Caravan Cleaner, which is available at www.rameder.eu for only €4.49.

Matt and brittle surfaces

UV radiation, the weather, smog and other environmental influences over time make plastic surfaces matt, brittle and unattractive. In rough patches and pores dirt settles and can only be removed by using much force. Ugly "rain stripes", from dripping water and dirt combined, complete the "used" look.

Effective cleaning

In contrast to surfaces made of painted steel or aluminium, a conventional car wash won't do here. Much more effective is the special Rameder 500ml pump-action spray Caravan Cleaner, which is not only highly active but also easy to use and gentle on materials. Spray it on, let it work for a few moments and wipe it off with a cloth or sponge and you're done!
